Two Cents Per Year

MARSH BULL

Editor

Published at the Post-Office, Cedarville, Ohio, October 21, 1907, as second class matter.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1904

A plank in the Republican platform as to good roads and the abolition of the state highway department has met much opposition within the party and of course has given the opposing parties much capital in a political way. We were glad to give Congressman Willis' views on this matter in our last issue. Candidate

Willis is not against the good road plank. He is against the abolition of the state highway department. He would like to see the state department of highways and have a couple of million dollars that comes out of the national government. Doing away with this department the national government would only turn this money over to some other state that has such a department. Uncle Sam will not send money to states to be spent here and there by county officials. The only course offered for such a plank being in the Republican platform is that selfish interests want the department abolished so that road rollers, graders, and all forms of road machinery can be sold to individual counties at high prices. By the contract system under the state department the contractors must furnish their own equipment. Again it appears that some Republicans would abolish such a department because the Democrats had made much progress in improving the state highways. This is not good. The state highway department is a small matter in itself. It is not a plank in the Republican platform. We are thankful that the Republican candidates stand by their own plank. We are thankful that the Republican candidates stand by their own plank. We are thankful that the Republican candidates stand by their own plank.

The Cincinnati Enquirer is taking advantage of roasting President Wilson when opportunity presents itself. This Democratic paper is owned by John R. McLean, who also is credited with owning several thousand shares of steamship and industrial company stock that is affected one way or another by the Panama canal bill that was urged by the President and passed at this session of congress. Regardless of the fact that certain interests in this country are not in favor of the Panama canal, it is not a plank in the Republican platform. We are thankful that the Republican candidates stand by their own plank. We are thankful that the Republican candidates stand by their own plank. We are thankful that the Republican candidates stand by their own plank.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By R. O. BULL, Director Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 4

CHRIST ANOINTED FOR BURIAL

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:1-11. GOLDEN TEXT—She hath done what she could. Mark 14:6.

Event crowds fast upon event during this the world's most tragic week. Two days before the passover occurred, the chief priests and other leaders entered a conspiracy how to rid themselves of this troublesome Nazarene. This plot mentioned in the first two verses of the lesson probably occurred four days later than the anointing. Note the separating paragraph mark; also look up carefully a good harmony of the Gospels. Following the Olivet discourse Jesus was led to the high priest's palace. "Two days the passover." At that very time Judas was scheming with the rulers for his arrest. John, in his Gospel, tells us that the feast was six days before, and that it was in connection with this that Judas had left the company to go to the priests.

Judas Iscariot was angry at our Lord and this incident led immediately to the betrayal. Nowhere else in all history is there a blacker picture of the human heart or the length of wickedness to which it will go. Everything at this hour is electric and strange. Events rapidly converge towards the cross. For that, grace has been planning and sin is plotting.

AMAZED THE DISCIPLES

I. Mary Magdalene, vv. 3-9. Jesus had his inner circle of friends and his favorite places of abode and was evidently more precious than that home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus. In this supreme hour Jesus came to this home to bring it a confirmation of faith and some further spiritual gift. From that time of Peter's confession, seven months previous the Lord had constantly reaffirmed his statement that he must go to Jerusalem, die, and be raised the third day. This teaching amazed the disciples and filled them with fear. Jesus did not, however, awaken faith and acquiescence in the heart of Judas. He said, "He hath done what she could, she hath anointed my body aforehand for my burial." Notice that Jesus received the true meaning of her act as for himself, still it was for the world, for he said, "This that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her." This was not merely a reward for Mary; it was that her act should be an inspiration to incite his followers to like activities and attitudes throughout all the ages. This is all that is asked of any disciple (II Cor. 8:12). Love forgets self, surroundings, cost or criticism. Love pours out itself to the uttermost and its fragrance fills not alone the house but the whole of creation.

II. Judas Conspires, vv. 10, 11. This tender story ends with the terrible account of Judas. He had no sympathy for Mary, primarily because he was not in sympathetic relations with Jesus. Jesus had revealed, called forth, the deepest love of Mary's heart. In the case of Judas he revealed a heart of treachery. Accepting the adoring anointing of Mary and also perpetuating it, he at the same time calls forth a revelation of that conspiring motive of selfishness in the heart of Judas that led to his own self-destruction. Contrast these two plotlines. We recall the crushed heart of Mary at the death of Lazarus which brought Mary into the closest fellowship with Jesus. In her shadow and sorrow she learned to pour out her love in sacrificial anointing.

Raymond Hitchcock, the formidable comedian, is the first offering at the Fairbanks for the week of October 8th, where he will be seen on Monday evening, October 5th, in his latest, laugh-producing vehicle, "THE BEAUTY SHOP". Although Mr. Hitchcock might well be "the whole show" because he is clever enough to entertain an audience without any assistance, he has in this instance, the assistance of a splendid company, good music, pretty girls, who can both dance and sing, and a number of able principals. In fact Mr. Hitchcock's offerings are always the best.

Tuesday evening, October 6th, will be the event of the annual engagement of that wonderful organization—Souza's Band—whose visit each season to Springfield at the Fairbanks Theatre brings out all the lovers of music, both classic and popular—from all the surrounding country. It is due to the remarkable leadership of Mr. Souza that this organization has been held together for so many years and its conceded by musical critics that his band is not equaled by any other organization of the kind in the world.

The volcanic EVA TANGUAY will be in our midst on Thursday evening, October 8th, when she will play a visit to the Fairbanks Theatre, Springfield, and all the town and country round about will want to see her. This season she is appearing in a vehicle the name of which describes the young lady about as accurately as the English language permits—"MISS TABASCO". Critics in other cities in which Miss Tanguay has appeared give the comedienne "all the best of it" in their reviews.

A political play, said to be founded on the incidents surrounding the Sulzer impeachment proceedings in New York State is the offering at the Fairbanks Theatre, Springfield, Friday and Saturday, October 9th, with matinee Saturday. At this season of the year when the state is in a turmoil which precedes the election of all its officers from the governor down to the county commissioners and tax assessors, there will be many who will be interested in the trial of governor in "THE GOVERNOR'S BOSS". How he meets and defeats his enemies makes a very interesting story as unfolded in this city.
